

The Story of Ideas...

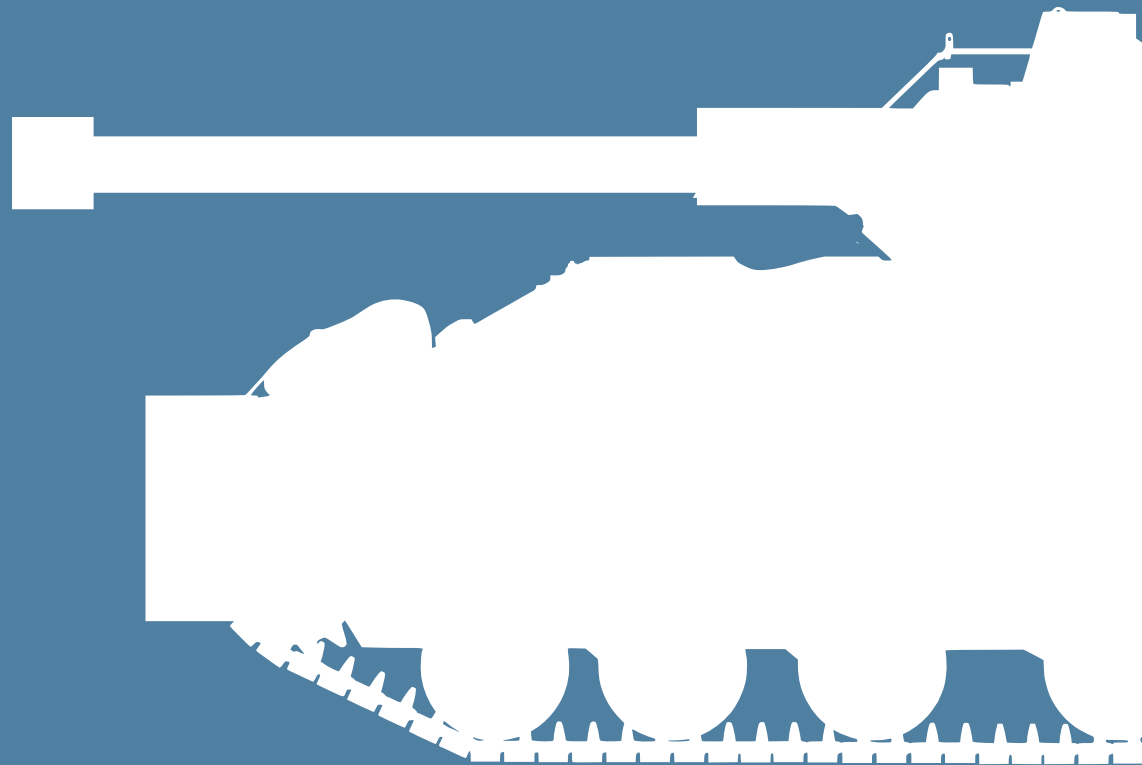

*...ideas are infinite.. we live in outcomes
of ideas and in the persual of new ones...*

... ideas are like phoenix.. if burnt...they rise back from the ashes with new vigor..

..all it takes is a courage of one to pursue an idea...

..ideas sometimes simply fall on our heads and sometimes give fleeting glimpses which are hard to grasp...

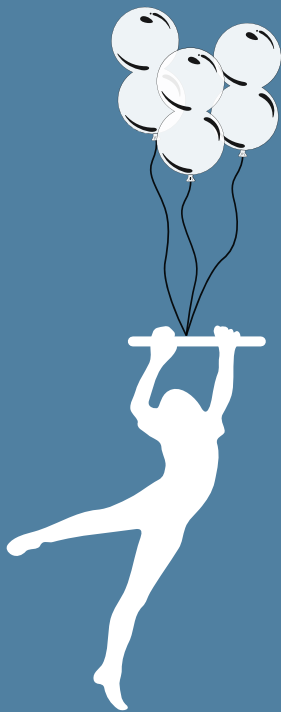

...only those who are mindful are graced with the best of the ideas...

... ideas can be reduced to a simple form,
but into a potent force....

... simple light ideas can lift us up, and heavy bright ones can consume us..

...ideas need feeding, those that we feed
grow and in turn defines us...

... ideas expect a leap of faith..

...if water gives us life, ideas give our lives purpose...

... ideas can exist without form and shape, and it is this that makes it most powerful..
